On November 12 Lexxion Publisher and Steptoe's Chemicals Team are hosting a seminar on the appeals process under REACH. Taking place in Frankfurt, the seminar will look at the Board of Appeal's decisions, the remedies obtained and how successful litigation influences the evolving EU chemical regulation process and can provide benefits to the chemical industry. The afternoon will be dedicated to an interactive workshop where you will have the opportunity to work closely with Steptoe's EU Chemicals team to discuss the strategy behind bringing appeals before the BoA. The workshop will split participants into groups to discuss real-world examples of appeals, guide you through the process, and highlight the value of litigation as a tool to protect your business's interests.

Session II: Appeals under REACH

13:45 Interactive Workshop

Introduction to workshop

- The Board of Appeal, its mission and procedure?
- Outline and aim of workshop

14:30 Interactive Workshop

For this session participants will be divided into groups, each moderated by a Steptoe speaker, to go through the appeals process. We will work together to:

- Identify and explain the flaws in ECHA's decision that lead to an appeal being brought
- Come up with arguments to defend the case
- Identify the remedies and discuss how the Board of Appeal might have ruled

ca. 15:45 Coffee Break

After the break, each group will have a rapporteur to present its conclusions. This will be followed by a discussion of how the group results compare to the actual ruling in the case.

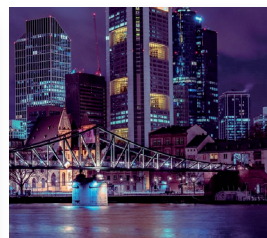

17:30 End of the Workshop
