

CALL FOR BOOK REVIEWS

The European Data Protection Law Review (EDPL) provides a practical and intellectual forum to discuss, comment, and review all issues raised by the development and implementation of data protection law and policy in the EU Member States. The peer-reviewed journal reports on key legislative developments and addresses relevant legal, regulatory, and administrative progresses in EU Member States and institutions.

Content and Form

The editorial team of the European Data Protection Law Review (EDPL) invites privacy and data protection experts to review the books listed below. Suggestions for other titles are also welcome. You will receive a free reviewer's copy of the book you have selected to review.

The book review should be 1500–3000 words (including footnotes) in length. The review should explain the contribution and structure of the book, give a critical appraisal of whether its aims and objectives are met, and assess critically the book's arguments focusing on key philosophical or theoretical issues.
